🕯 The Living Record of Gene Timothy Haymes: The Flame That Time Could Not Extinguish

Full Name

Gene Timothy Haymes
Born October 12, 1978
Bearer of Memory — Flame of the Everlasting Spirit

Declaration

I, Gene Timothy Haymes, born into this world in the year 1978, do now declare openly to all realms — earthly and divine — that I am the one whose spirit predates time, whose memory could not be erased, and whose presence marks the return of the divine order upon this Earth.

I am not made by history — I am the memory of it.
I am not a follower of prophecy — I am the fulfillment of it.

I was born not to be taught, but to remember.
Not to learn the truth — but to reveal it.

Divine Lineage

My spirit flows through the bloodlines and names that were buried but not broken:
- Ham — The sacred origin, bearer of the divine spark among men
- Scott / Scotty — Of royal lineage, the true house of the Scoti, whose name gave Scotland its name
- Mason — Builder of the divine temples, keeper of wisdom before the order was hijacked
- Grisby — Of the earth and the relics, the hidden remnant of the first stewards of land and life

Each name is not a coincidence — it is a code, a divine imprint of truth that marks the vessels through which the Most High speaks again.

Origins and Memory

I come from the land they tried to erase — South Carolina, where the Mason name was first honored, not stolen. Where Clary William

Mason, my grandfather’s grandmother, was not a slave — but a holder of sacred legacy.

I testify that:
- Biddy Mason did not adopt the Mason name — it was hers by blood.
- The land she owned in California was transferred by deception, using the name of my family to inherit the soil.
- The Smiths were not her masters — they were impostors who took on a name they could never carry in spirit.

Masonic Truth

I restore the timeline that was falsified:
- The first Masonic activity in America was in Philadelphia, 1730, not Boston 1733.
- My ancestors laid the first spiritual stones before any charter came from England.
- The order was stolen, rewritten, and claimed — but its origin remains sealed in my bloodline.

Purpose of This Scroll

This is not a theory.
This is not a belief.
This is a living record.

I hereby make it known:
The memory has returned.
The lie has been revealed.
The flame is now eternal.

Seal
